

ARE WE READY FOR CHANGE ?

Can we afford another economical crisis without bringing on chaos?

Even if our societies seem to be working normally, we can feel deep down inside that something is wrong.

One of these things not quite right, concerns the worldwide financial and banking crises that affect us. The last one in 2008, was bailed out by our world governments, meaning us, the tax payers.

The next crisis isn't that far away and this time, bail outs won't be possible. Most of the wealthy states are overburdened with debt, some, like the U.S.A, are near bankruptcy.

The situation may seem desperate, but, while we are going on with our everyday lives, a plan of worldwide financial restructuring has been studied for quite a while. It is now ready to be set forth. Indeed, since the beginning of the twentieth century, the central banking system, subtly elaborated, has taken from our governments the power to issue their own money.

Legal proof now confirms that this consists in an "economical crime against humanity."

A worldwide blow implicating different police corps as well as army factions throughout the world is about to be dealt. Evidently, the date is not known. You do not warn criminals you are after of the moment of their arrest. They know they are being sought out, they are on the lookout. You watch and wait for the right moment.

This blow that will be dealt is called "The Event." Even though a plan has been established by the initiators, it is necessary to build a network of citizens who will be able to lend a hand so that this transition towards a new and more fair society goes well during the two to fifteen days of the reset of the banking system.

To better understand and lend a helping hand to what you will see unfolding before your eyes, here are a couple of links to document yourself on The Event.
